RECREATIONAL RED SNAPPER FISHERY IN GULF OF MEXICO FEDERAL WATERS WILL CLOSE AT 12:01 A.M., LOCAL TIME, NOVEMBER 1, 2005

NOAA's National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) announces the recreational fishery for red snapper in Gulf of Mexico federal waters will close at 12:01 a.m., local time, on November 1, 2005. The recreational fishery will remain closed until 12:01 a.m., local time, January 1, 2006.

During the closure, the possession of red snapper taken from the EEZ is prohibited.

NOAA Fisheries Service is dedicated to protecting and preserving our nation's living marine resources and their habitats through scientific research, management and enforcement. NOAA Fisheries Service provides effective stewardship of these resources for the benefit of the nation, supporting coastal communities that depend upon them, and helping to provide safe and healthy seafood to consumers and recreational opportunities for the American public.

The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, an agency of the U.S. Commerce Department, is dedicated to enhancing economic security and national safety through the prediction and research of weather and climate-related events and providing environmental stewardship of our nation's coastal and marine resources. Through the emerging Global Earth Observation System of Systems (GEOSS), NOAA is working with its federal partners and nearly 60 countries to develop a global monitoring network that is as integrated as the planet it observes.
